To whom it may concern,

In my work experience with NOW Specialties at the Methodist Richardson Hospital project in Richardson Texas; NOW Specialties has shown the expertise and team centered approach to help this project team to a successful completion.

They worked tirelessly with a safety first attitude all the while providing cooperation & support to the team, knowledge of their materials and a first rate understanding of their systems. We could have not finished this project on time and maintained a high client satisfaction without their involvement in this project.
